HOUSE URGES PRESIDENT TO PROPOSE NEW NAVAL SLASH

Committee Would Restrict New Ships To 10,000 Tons

ASKS OVERTURES

Harding Petitioned To Negotiate With Powers

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Dec. 13.—Reporting the annual Naval Bill to the House of Representatives the Appropiations Committee makes the proposal that the President should negotiate with Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan for an agreement, limiting future construction of all surface and submersible types of warcraft of a tonnage not exceeding 10,000 and of all classes of military and naval aircraft.

The Committee points out that the Disarmament Conference did not limit the number of smaller warships and says that information has reached Congress that already large building programs have been planned to the maximum permitted under the Disarmament Agreement and that new larger types of submersible craft have begun to appear. The Committee adds that in other words competition is proceeding again where the unratified agreement does not extend and that, if this is not checked, the Government, like all the others, will be constrained to launch a new program to keep abreast with the other Powers.

The Committee proposes the provision of $55,000,000 for the coming year for the completion of the 56 warships allowed under the Disarmament Treaty, being $14,000,000 more than the amount recommended in the Budget.

Washington, Dec. 13.—The Governmental Reorganisation Commission has recommended to President Harding the consolidation of the Departments of War and the Navy in a Department of National Defence which would function under Cabinet member assisted by the chiefs of the Army and the Navy.

London, Dec. 13.—In the House of Commons today, Mr. Becker called attention to the reports that the United States was going to build the most powerful navy in the world by building smaller ships than specified in the Washington Treaty. He asked what steps the Government intended to take to see that Britain did not lose her sea supremacy.

Mr. L. C. M. S. Amery, the First Lord of the Admiralty, replied that no restriction had been placed on the contracting Powers with regard to the number of warships they might build in conformity with Articles XI and XII of the Washington Treaty.

The Admiralty could be relied on to scrutinise carefully the building program of other Powers with a view to safeguarding our naval position.

London, Dec. 13.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Mr. Morel, Mr. Bonar Law said that the British Government had set no time-limit for ratification of the Washington Treaty, nor, so far as he was aware, had the United States, but the Government were gravely disappointed at the continued delay in ratification by two of the signatory Powers. He, however, was of opinion that it was premature to consider the Government in the event of non-ratification by a signatory, which he sincerely hoped would never arise.

BY J. L. BUTTS

It was a tactical error on his own part which brought retribution to Nyeu Nyung-fok.

The matter of Nyeu first came to official attention at 4:30 o'clock in the morning a few days ago by reason of Mok Ching-lai, wheel barrow collie, who stood before a doorway in Haining Road, battering at the portal and using language which would have been disturbing even at a busier hour of the day. Detective Ah Ling, who happened to be in the neighborhood, came up to make inquiry as to the uproar—thus unconsciously assuming the role of Nemesis in the episode.

Mok was irate to a degree. He had just been, thrown ignominiously out of an all-night food shop after having been abused and roughly handled by the proprietor. By way of establishing a connection between this humiliating incident and the assault on the Haining Road address the detective inquired if the food shop keeper dwelt therein. Mok said no. This was the domicile of the man who had given him the brass dollar with which he had tried to pay for his meal. The man was Nyeu Nyung-fok and the dollar was in payment for the transportation of five bags of rice from a shop at 594 Tiendong Road to Nyeu's home. Mok had been so agitated by the size of the fee that he hadn't thought of testing its authenticity when paid.

There didn't seem to be any chance of rousing anyone in the Nyeu household, so the detective and Mok went back to the rice shop. Here they found Dong Zai-fung, owner of the shop, who executed a lot of mental and vocal cartwheels when told of the Nyeu-Mok transaction. Hurriedly checking over his stock he found that it was indeed five sacks short. He also became much interested in the whereabouts of Nyeu and later in the day that worthy was rounded up and denied bail.

In Court Nyeu admitted embezzling the rice, but he was indignant about Mok's allegation as to the passing of the bad dollar. He had given the coolie a perfectly genuine coin, he protested and the bogus one introduced into the evidence must have been changed by Mok himself.

The rice merchant got his rice back, by order of the Court, and Nyeu got two months, so Mok appears to be the only one out on the deal. But perhaps the rice merchant rectified that matter.

ANOTHER WEATHER NOTE

Considering the time of day Foh Ah-yui was appropriately clothed, the time being 2:25 a.m. and Foh being smuggled up against the soft side of a padded silk bed quilt. The setting, however, failed to jibe with the costuming, being an alleyway off North Szechuen Road. Also Foh was exhibiting symptoms of somnambulism. These things excited the suspicion of the C. P. C. on beat, who became more convinced that something was wrong when he saw Loo Kyi-bai hurtle out of a doorway and speed after the parading figure. Loo, it appeared, was a resident who had been chilled into a realisation that part of his bed clothes were missing.

Foh admitted going to Loo's home, but denied that he had taken anything away with him. He had only called there, he declared, to find out who lived at that address. A skimming of the official records brought out the interesting information that Foh had been a court caller some seven times in the past and that he had been definitely abolished from the streets of Shanghai a year ago. For the next year he will be with us once more, albeit unobtrusively, and then they will try again to make his absence permanent.

Would Solve Riddle Of The Eel

Dr. Johannes Schmidt

THE noted Danish explorer, Dr. Johannes Schmidt, has started on expedition to the mid-Atlantic, where he will conduct experiments in an effort to reach a solution of the life and birth of the eel, most peculiar of the fishy tribe. Eels are said to travel more than 1,000 miles to breed in the Atlantic and then return to their home waters.

JEWISH PEOPLE HERE OBSERVE 'FEAST OF LIGHTS'

Recall Victory Over Greeks By Maccabees In Time Of Antiochus

BY DAVID ARAKIE

The Jewish Festival of Hanucah, otherwise designated the "Feast of Dedication," was celebrated last night at the Ahduth Club by an entertainment.

Although a minor feast, it is faithfully observed by Jews all over, for it recalls to them the trials and triumphs of the nation during the time of Anthiochus Epiphanes. The historical associations of this Jewish festival, which is observed for eight days, cluster round the name Judas Matathias and the victories of the Maccabees. The story is vividly told by Josephus in his "History of the Jews," the recognised authority on Jewish historical facts.

To the Jew the spirit of the Maccabees who swayed by their religious fervor, succeeded in driving away the huge Grecian army and freeing Jerusalem—just a small band of warriors they comprised—has the power of firming their ccurage and sustaining them in their struggle against antagonistic forces.

The origin of this Hanucah celebration is particularly interesting. It is identified with a story of a miraculous cruse of oil which was found in the Temple at Jerusalem in the course of the purification following on the successes of Judas Maccabees, a devout Jew who together with his seven sons refused to bow to the edict of Antiochus Epiphanes that the Jews should worship the Greek gods, and do away with the observance of the Sabbath, circumcision and other Jewish ceremonials.

A small body of very devout Jews, who did not care to stake their lives in fighting the Greeks rallied round Judas, and waged guerilla warfare. The band increased slowly but eventually the number of Jewish contestants was a mere handful to what the Greeks could marshal. Judas Maccabees fell in the war and before he died he extracted a promise from his seven sons that they would carry on the war.

Judas was the High Priest at the Temple, which the Greeks had desecrated for three years by placing their idols there and slaughtering pigs. The sons swore to their father that they would avenge themselves of the Greeks, and the wars sometimes resulted in favor of the Maccabees—so called as they had joined forces with Judas Maccabees and his sons—and sometimes with the Greeks. The struggle for freeing Jerusalem and the Temple from the Greek dominance continued, while one by one the sons of Judas Maccabee fell in the war. Eventually the great deliverance came and the Greeks were forced to leave the place.

Moral Welfare League Presents 1923 Program

To Campaign Against "White Slave" Traffic, And For Mixed Court Home And Travellers' Aid Society

Moral conditions in Shanghai at the present time and a program for the improvement of present conditions were discussed at the annual meeting of the Moral Welfare League of Shanghai at the Royal Asiatic Society rooms last night. The Rev. C. E. Spencer, Sub-Dean of Holy Trinity Cathedral, Chairman of the League, presided, and the report for the year and program for the immediate future was presented and discussed by interested members.

Officers elected for 1923 were the same as this year, being: Chairman, Rev. C. E. Spencer; Vice-chairman, Dr. Margaret H. Polk; Treasurer, Rev. J. W. Crofoot; Honorary Secretary, Rev. Frank Rawlinson; Secretary, Mr. Chi-fan Li; Mixed Court Visitors, Mrs. P. S. Wu and Mrs. J. H. Cheng.

Dr. Margaret H. Polk, vice-chairman of the League, made a short address on the question of the "White Slave" traffic—traffic in women and children.

"WHITE SLAVES"

"As a result of disclosures in 1885 on traffic in women Mr Cootes started organising national vigilance committees—beginning in England and travelling all over Europe and later over America," Dr. Polk said. "In September of that same year the first National Vigilance Committee was organised. The objects of this organisation were as follows: 1. To affiliate all smaller societies. 2. To assist all societies working to the same end. 3. To consider girl protection. 4. To stimulate and maintain healthy public opinion concerning public morality. 5. To appeal to people about the importance of personal purity. 6. Urging parents to warn and instruct young people. 7. Teaching mistresses and employers about their responsibility to young employes. 8. Considering economical conditions which increase or decrease immorality. 9. Prohibit circulation of impure literature. 10. Teach importance of simplicity of life. 11. Ask all women to organise to help their own sex. 12. To have in every town a local society whose name and address might be given to every woman going to that town, so they may know where to go in case of need.

"National movements were also formed in other countries. In June, 1899, the International Society for the suppression of the White Slave Traffic was organised, to be composed of Government representatives and delegates from the National Societies. It was decided that a meeting, called a Congress, should convene every three years, with a preliminary Conference the year before.

"International Congresses were held in 1899, 1902, 1906, 1910 and 1913. At the fifth conference attention was called to conditions in Shanghai and the Far East with reference to the traffic in girls and women. Bishop Bannister asked about the import of American women to Shanghai and Tientsin and was told they were sent here by their agents. The report (1911) called 'The Social Evil in Chicago' also refers to this traffic. A determined effort to stop this traffic in American women was made by Judge Wilfley. That it still exists, in some measure, as well as traffic in women from China to other places we have evidence in hand to show.

"The International Agreement on the White Slave Traffic has nine articles, the most important of which are:

"Article 1. Each government to establish or name some authority to co-ordinate information concerning the procuring of girls for the trade abroad, this authority to correspond direct with similar parties in other Contracting States.

"Article 2. Each government undertakes to have watch kept at R. R. Stations, Ports of Embarkation, and en route, for persons in charge of women and girls.

"Article 3. The governments undertake, within legal limits, to have declarations taken of women and girls of foreign nationality who are prostitutes, to discover their identity and who caused them to leave their country, and give this information to similar authorities in their own country to try to repatriate them. Also to try to protect them until they are repatriated.

"Article 4. If no private funds are possible to repatriate her, the government undertakes to send her to the port nearest her home.

RATIFICATIONS

"Of the sixteen governments represented by Consulates in the International Settlement, all but four have ratified the international agreements on traffic in women and children. Of these four Brazil and Czecho-Slovakia adhere to the arrangement of 1904; Japan, through her representative on the League of Nations, signed the convention of 1921 with ratification expected, and the United States has its own 'White Slave Traffic Act' of June 25, 1910, which is based on the convention

REFUGEE FLEET UNABLE TO SAIL BEFORE DEC. 24

Mrs. Dietricks, Wife Of Former Commander, Cares For Orphans

Although Chinese organisations who have donated $20,000 or more to a relief fund for the Russian refugees on the fourteen portless vessels at Woosung are reported to have purchased 2,000 tons of coal for delivery on board the ships, and contracted for food supplies the Russians themselves have not as yet decided what to do.

A long, hazardous journey faces the refugees if they accept the Chinese offer as under its conditions they must promise not to touch at any other Chinese port. Such conditions would force them to turn South, and in the event they were refused permission to land at Hongkong, Manila or Saigon they would be forced to make for Europe. In such event it is thought Admiral Stark would be forced to transfer the occupants of the smaller ships to the larger ships.

Regardless of the decision, however, Commissioner V. Grosse, of the Bureau of Russian Affairs, said last night that an examination of the ships showed that four of them were badly in need of repairs and the portless fleet could not sail for any other port until repairs were made. He set the earliest date at which the refugees flotilla could sail with safety as December 24. Under such circumstances it is assumed several local organisations will take some measures toward providing the refugees with a Christmas.

Mr. Grosse is still continuing his efforts among several organisations attempting to do everything he can for the refugees. The situation is so unique, however, that he, as well as Admiral Stark and the refugees, is faced with a strange and complicated problem.

Since the local agitation in connection with the arrival of the refugees at Woosung, and particularly the problem of the 300 or more orphans aboard the vessels who desired to land in Shanghai, it has become known that Mrs. Dietricks, wife of the former head of the Vladivostok Government, before the Reds assumed control, arrived in Shang had a week ago with 35 orphans the children of Russians of the old regime who were killed in, or as a consequence of, the war. Mrs. Dietricks has transported and is caring for the orphans at her own expense and at the present time they are housed in what is known as the old railway station at Siccawei.

The temporary housing accommodations the orphans have been able to find is destitute of furniture and they are getting along as best they can, according to reports, until such time as by their own efforts and outside help they are able to provide the necessary furniture. M. Wilden, the French Consul-General, and Madame Wilden have made arrangements to provide 35 bedsteads, which will be delivered today, and Mr. Grosse at the Russian Bureau, at 1 Astor Road, would be grateful for the gift of any old pieces of furniture. It is also suggested that any who would like to assist the orphans at Siccawei drive out to the old railway station and make their own investigation of conditions and govern their giving in accordance with what conditions they find.

St. John's Alumni Honor Dr. Alfred Sze; American Chamber Here Also Host

The lessons drawn by China from the Washington Conference were told by Dr. Sao Ke Alfred Sze, China's principal delegate to the Washington Conference, to the alumni of St. John's University at a tea given by the latter in his honor at the Ningpo Association yesterday.

Mr. Yuan Li-tung, president of the Alumni Association, presided. Speeches were also made by Dr. F. L. Hawks Pott, president of the university and Dr. Z. T. Wu, director of the Hanyang Iron Works.

In introducing the guest of honor, Mr. Yuan said that the gathering was somewhat different from those which Dr. Sze had been attending since his return because it was in the nature of family reunion, taking on completely an informal atmosphere. Although the number turning out was not big on account of office duties, many alumni kept away from the reception were with it in spirit.

Dr. Sze emphasised the sense of responsibility that every St. John's alumni should possess towards society and mankind. While appreciating the distinct privilege of securing a college education from St. John's, he said, one should sympathise with those who were unable to secure any education at all. It was in that spirit that he donated the sum of $1,000 when he was Taotai of Harbin.

The guest of honor paid a high tribute to Dr. Pott for his unfailing efforts in producing good citizens for the Republic. Dr. Pott had sacrificed much to attain this purpose, Dr. Sze said, and he felt that the one aspiration that Dr. Pott had was to see St. John's grow and he was sure that in this regard, every alumni, whether well-to-do or not, should help. Dr. Sze urged that something must be done by every alumni every year and pointed out that a school of engineering should at once be established. He contended that China has already too many literary men and lawyers, who indulge in verbal combats and legal filibustering and that technical experts for constructive purposes were what China needed.

Coming to the Washington Conference, Dr. Sze asserted that China drew three important lessons. The first was that she needed men of special training to perform administrative duties. Secondly, China needed a thorough house-cleaning herself, so that law and order could be preserved and life and property would be secure. Lastly, Dr. Sze said, her people must go in more for industrial and commercial enterprises so as to supplant the work done hitherto by foreign merchants.

Dr. Pott likened the services of Dr. Sze to those of Ambassador Page of the United States, who was at the Court of St. James when war broke out, both holding a very important and difficult position at a very trying time. The diplomats sometimes did not know what their governments wanted. Then, too, when they did, they did not know whether that was what their people wanted because the peoples and the governments did not always agree on diplomatic questions.

"But by his wonderful diplomatic tactics," said Dr. Pott, "Dr. Sze has succeeded in preserving the friendship of the two big nations of the world, first at London and later at Washington. Dr. Sze was doing for China exactly what Ambassador Page was doing for the United States. Here is China in a period of transition. She is very little understood by the nations of the world. But by his wonderful tactic, he has won for China the sympathy and confidence of the powers."

Dr. Wu considered the gathering memorable since it was convened to honor one of St. John's sons who had become prominent in world affairs. He picked up the

LOCAL COLLEGE DEFEATS NANKING IN ANNUAL DEBATE

Shanghai College defeated Nanking University in the inter-collegiate debate held in the former's assembly hall last night before an enthusiastic audience. The winning team was composed of Pan En-ling, Woo Nai-yien and Djang Si-wei. The question was "Resolved that the coming of Western Industrialism is likely to do more harm than good to China" and the negative was taken by the winners.

This is the first victory for Shanghai College against Nanking for four years. The decision of the three judges of last night's debate was unanimous. While both sides had gathered together a mass of facts and quotations for their arguments, the Shanghai trio were excellent in style and delivery.

Nanking University was represented by Tung Teh-fu, Tsai Loh-seng and Ko Seng The team was accompanied on its trip to Shanghai by Prof. Edwin Marx.

Dr. John Y. Lee of the National Committee, Y. M. C. A., presided and the judges were the Rev. A. N. Rowland, of the Union Church; Mr. W. W. Lockwood, of the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. Jabin Hsu of THE CHINA PRESS.

GREY HINTS AT REPRISALS IF FRANCE FAILS TO O.K. TREATY

Viscount Says Britain May Not Remit Debts

LORDS IN DEBATE

Birkenhead Says Debtor Nations Are Free Of Unemployment

(French Wireless)

London, Dec. 13.—Representative views by non-Government Peers on the Reparations and inter-Allied debts question were voiced in the House of Lords tonight.

Lord Birkenhead hailed the Premier's indication of policy yesterday. He emphasised the very heavy taxation to which Britain had submitted while other nations, including her debtors, had not made comparable demands on their nationals.

Lord Birkenhead pointed out in this connection the chronic unemployment in Britain while there was no unemployment in France and practically none in Italy. He discountenanced the French proposals for securities in connection with the grant of a moratorium to Germany.

Viscount Grey in a weighty contribution to the debate advised a broad policy of remission of debts by Britain in the interest of the economic restoration of Europe. He said that the question of reparations was bound up with it and urged the re-summoning of the International Commission of Bankers. Viscount Grey further pressed the necessity of developing and strengthening the League of Nations.

Viscount Grey, disclaiming provocative language, gave a broad hint of the possibility that Britain would not consider remission of inter-Allied debts if the unofficial French report was correct to the effect that France did not intend to ratify the Washington Treaty and was likely to spend money on a new type of warships.

Viscount Grey proceeded to present a very sympathetic view of the French feeling in consequence of the absolute disappearance of the Franco-American Treaties, guaranteeing her against German aggression, and concluded with an expression of disagreement with the view that the nation would ensure security by occupying foreign territory.

Paris, Dec. 13.—M. Poincare this morning reported to his colleagues in the Cabinet on the negotiations at Lausanne and on the London conference.

In spite of the interruption until the beginning of January of the conference begun in London, the French press generally considers that one important result has been obtained, namely, the unanimous and unhesitating rejection by the Allies of Chancellor Cuno's proposals.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Dec. 14.—Mr. Charles Beecher Warren, the American Ambassador to Japan, was the guest of the Anglo-American Association at a tiffin today. Mr. Warren, in the course of a speech emphasised the importance of sound nationalism as the basis of internationalism in world relationships and pointed out the opportunities and responsibilities of their possession of such nationalism entails for America and Great Britain. Mr. R. H. Clive responded and thanked the guest on behalf of the Association.

Peking, Dec. 14.—The Prisident received in audience Mr. Charles Beecher Warren, the United States Ambassador to Japan, this morning.

TURKISH REPLY TO EARL CURZON IS CONCILIATORY

Willing To Allow 200,000 Greeks Stay In Capital

(Reuter's Service)

Lausanne, Dec. 13.—Ismet Pasha, replying to the speech by Earl Curzon yesterday, declared that the Turks were ready to allow 200,000 Greeks to remain in Constantinople while Turks who had to leave Greece under the exchange system should be adequately compensated for their property.

Turkey was willing to let Armenians stay in Turkey but would not consent to the cession of territory as a national home for Armenians.

Turkey would not agree to the establishment of an international commission in Constantinople to supervise the carrying out of the Turkish obligations to minorities.

Lausanne, Dec. 12.—Earl Curzon's plain speaking to the Turks this morning at the meeting of the First Commission has raised the question in some quarters as to whether it signifies the break-up of the Conference. Well-informed quarters, however, believe that the Turks after reconsideration will adopt a more moderate attitude.

Earl Curzon expressed strong dissatisfaction at Ismet Pasha's speech and declared that, if the Conference broke down on the question of minorities, the Turks would find no support anywhere outside of Angora.

Lausanne, Dec. 13.—The Russian Delegation has addressed a Note to the Presidents of the Conference protesting against the procedure of the Allies regarding the Straits discussion.

They complain that the Allied scheme has undergone modifications without the previous knowledge of the Russians, notably regarding the demilitarisation of certain zones.

The Note emphasises the immovable decision of Russia not to renounce her rights to take part in the solution of this important international question which directly affects her vital interests.

Paris, Dec. 13.—The territorial commission of the Lausanne Conference today continued the discussion of the question of minorities.

M. Venizelos insisted on the necessity of control of the protection of minorities by the League of Nations and recalled the ill-treatment to which the Christian minorities in Turkey had been subjected for the past 6 years.

Earl Curzon pointed out that the Great Powers, such as France and Britain, were not trying to withdraw themselves from the control of the League of Nations.

LETTISH SEAMAN IS CHARGED WITH ATTEMPT TO KILL

Fires Revolver In Range Road Boarding House

Reckless use of a revolver in a boarding house at 59 Range Road Wednesday evening resulted in a charge of attempted murder being brought yesterday in the Mixed Court against an unemployed Lettish sailor named Alfred J. Purin. Purin is also charged with carrying firearms and with being drunk and disorderly and a companion Peter Grawn, who accompanied him on the shooting expedition is also charged with being drunk and disorderly.

The case came before Assessor King and Magistrate Loh. According to the testimony Purin and Grawg came into the boarding house shortly before 8 o'clock, calling on one Jack Cilin, who was entertaining two friends, F. Lafin and P. Kull, at dinner. The visitors demanded drinks and were abusive when refused. They went out and then returned and Purin drew his revolver and fired three shots, one tearing through the ceiling and another going through a window. Purin and Grawa were arrested in the street outside the house.

Assessor King and Magistrate Loh remanded the case for a hearing today before the Russian Assessor.

Former Consul At Chungking Shot

(China Press Service)

Guatemala, Dec. 14.—Mason Mitchell, American Consul here, was shot today by an assailant who is believed to be insane. His wound will not prove fatal.

Mason Mitchell won great distinction in America as an actor before entering the consular service. He was at one time American ex consul at Zanzibar, at Apia, Samoa, and at Chungking, China. He also won distinction as a big game hunter and was first to shoot the "Tahr" after which the "Tahr" was named after him. (Budorcas taxicolor Mitchell).

Mrs. H. Thompson Wins In Action Against Husband

"I'd rather go to jail than pay her anything."

Mr. H. Thompson, 18 Nanking Road, made that statement yesterday afternoon when Judge Peter Grain in the British Supreme Court handed down a judgment against him in the case brought by his wife, Mrs. Marie Thompson, for arrears of maintenance allowances under a separation agreement dated July 16, 1921. Under the agreement Mr. Thompson promised to pay Mrs. Thompson half of his salary at the end of each month. He must continue to make the monthly payments.

Mr. Thompson, who appeared in person, submitted that the claim was modified by the new agreement. Acting under this new agreement, Mrs. Thompson restored to her husband the custody of the eldest child on the understanding that she should be allowed to see her every Saturday. Mrs. Thompson alleged that Mr. Thompson had not kept the agreement and that the child was not sent to her as specified.

Mr. Thompson yesterday also submitted that by a written declaration made by his wife she definitely repudiated his support and liability. The document in question, which was produced in court, was a postcard, which the plaintiff asserted was not a repudiation at all.

Mr. K. E. Newman appeared for the plaintiff and briefly detailed the case after which Mr. K. A. Neubourg, Mrs. Thompson's brother, was cross-examined on allegations he was said to have made and more testimony by Mr. and Mrs. Thompson.

UNEMPLOYMENT DEBATE LEADS TO ROW IN COMMONS

Bonar Law Bitterly Attacked By Labor Members

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 13.—There was an uproar in the House of Commons at question time today arising from Mr. Bonar Law's refusal of the demand of Mr. George Lansbury (Labor) that the House should continue in session till means were found to relieve the distress of the unemployed.

Mr. Lansbury denounced the "callous indifference" of the Ministers with regard to unemployment.

Mr. Bonar Law replied that the Government was doing its utmost and a continued sitting of Parliament would not help.

Several labor members then, disregarding the Speaker's authority, tried to address the House.

Amid the uproar, in which he was most prominent, Mr. Scrymgeour (Prohibition) shouted that it was a scandal and demanded that the House should give its attention to the serious problem of the unemployed.

Mr. Lansbury declared that nothing had been done, the people were starving and the House did not care.

Mr. Kirkwood (Labor) passionately attacked the Prime Minister, declaring that he was useless and ought to resign.

Mr. Scrymgeour, amid the turmoil, appealed to Mr. Ramsay Macdonald but the leader of the Labor Party did not intervene.

Order was finally restored after the Speaker had appealed to the members to support the Chair and Mr. Bonar Law had pointed out that the matter could not be discussed at question time.

STERLING RATE

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 13.—A conspicuous feature of the London exchange market is the strength of sterling on New York which is attributed primarily to the soundness of British credit. Sterling touched 4.69 today and closed at 4.66¼.

New York, Dec. 13.—In connection with the advance in sterling exchange reports today circulated to the effect that the British Government is purchasing dollar credits and shipping gold in order to establish a large reserve fund in the United States against the time when sterling is again at par and a free gold market is reestablished in London.

Jewish People Have Feast Day

vanquished by a small band of Jewish warriors.

Such, in short, is the history clustering round this Jewish festival, a victory that has fired the imagination of all men throughout the ages, a miracle of miracles. It was achieved "not by strength, nor by might, but by acting in the spirit of God." That was the war cry of the Maccabees, and well had they fought to earn the reward. In its historical bearings, this chapter from Jewish history is full of fascination. The story is often related to children by Jewish parents to cultivate in them that spirit for national honor and glory. It is the same spirit that is now seen abroad in Palestine.

There is an interesting story of this festival. After the Temple was restored from the hands of the Greeks and purified, there was a little cruse of oil left, just sufficient for one night's burning of the Temple lamp, but the oil continued to burn for eight days and nights, a miracle which perplexed all those who lived in Jerusalem then. For that reason the Jews celebrate it by lighting a lamp every night of the eight days of the Feast of Dedication adding a lamp nightly until there are eight on the last day. Hence, it is sometimes called the "Feast of Lights."

Enever-Bennett Mine Fraud Case In London Court

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 14.—Mr. Edwin Enever and Mr. William Bennett and also Mr. Leslie Ernest Haynes were charged at the Westminster Police Court today with "conspiracy with others to cheat persons who could be induced to invest money in the Humphry and Denman Company." The Counsel for the Crown said that the Company dealt with a number of subsidiary concerns which are supposed to be interested in mines in China, including the Hengchow Company registered in 1920 with a capital of £50,000. The Hengchow Company entered into an agreement with a Mr. Grant, a mining engineer, whereby Mr. Grant sold to the Company certain rights and interest. Grant is said to have had a number of fully paid up shares to the face value of only £86. As far as the Counsel knew this was the only property of the Hengchow Company in China.

The firm of Humphry and Denman Company was registered in 1918 and as far as the Counsel knew it did nothing. Mr. Humphry and Mr. Denman were the sole Directors and shareholders till the end of 1921 when it appeared that they resigned succeeded by Mr. Enever. Messrs. McCartney and Company entered into an agreement with the Hengchow Company whereby it took over 50 shares of the Hengchow Company for £50,000 and agreed to take a further 50 shares when the representative of the Companies had arrived in China to verify the mines.

Subsequently advertisements appeared in the papers inviting people to take up positions of trust in the Far East and invest from £2,000 to £5,000 and receive salary and commission. Lieut.-General Sir Charles Kavanagh answered the advertisement and agreed to go to China to verify the Company's title of the mines, Mr. Enever giving him £250 as expenses and Sir Charles Kavanagh paying £350 for a number of shares. Sir Charles Kavanagh went to China and shortly afterwards a prospectus was issued with Sir Charles Kavanagh's name heading the list of Directors. Colonel McTaggart also invested £800 and went to China from where Sir Charles Kavanagh and he reported to the effect that the Company in China was valueless. Other persons have invested large sums, of which one of the accused drew some £25,000. The case was adjourned, bail being fixed at £1,000 each.

LYCEUM THEATER TO BE REOPONED ON JANUARY 17

A. D. C. Will Present Light Opera Version Of Fielding's "Tom Jones"

The Lyceum Theatre closed a year ago for repairs, will be reopened on January 17 when the A. D. C. will present their first play of the year, according to an announcement made yesterday.

The play to be offered is a dramatisation of Fielding's "Tom Jones" the Somerset, drama which was produced in light opera form in London several years ago with remarkable success and later had a run of a year at the Astor Theater in New York. As may be remembered the music was written by Edward German, one of the greatest English composers. When the production was presented in New York Louise Gunning appeared as prima donna and William Norris played the comedy role.

In preparation for the occasion when the theater will be reopened rehearsals of the play have already begun and a cast of seventy-six people under the direction of Mr. Reggie Wingrove has been selected. The music of the production is under the direction of Mr. Jack Raynes who has had a prominent part in many former successful productions of the Amateur Dramatic Society.

In the new production Mrs. W. J. Isenman is to be prima donna, played in London originally by Ruth Vincent and the part of the comedian is to be played by Mr. D. Donne. Mrs. Isenman's talents are wellknown to Shanghai audiences and Mr. Donne has scored striking successes in comedy roles of former A. D. C. productions.

The part of Honor in the play has been assigned to Mrs. Chris Wingrove. The Landlady is to be played by Mrs. Lyle, contralto. Among others in the cast are Mr. J. M. Martin, as Dobbin, Mr. N. G. Maitland as Squire Weston, Mr. Morrison as Mr. Allworthy, Mr. J. A. Walker as Mr. Grizzle, Mr. J. A. Johnson as Gregory. Miss Connie Limby and Miss Murray also have parts.

The famous waltz song, "For Tonight" is the big musical number of the piece, which includes such other famous song hits as "On January Morning," "West Country Lad", "The Barley Mow" and "Dream a' Day Joe".

Church Organisations Recommend Film At The Victoria Tonight

"A Maker of Men," the picture to be filmed at the Victoria Theater this afternoon, has been recommended by various church and missionary organisations as the type of clean, wholesome film that would be a benefit to the community. The picture is made by the Plymouth Film Corporation of New York, and describes the life of a militant champion of Christianity. The film is in six reels.

$1 at Thirty Equals $8 at Sixty

Which would you rather do, spend $1 when you are thirty years old, young, healthy and in your prime, or so utilize that dollar that when you are sixty and your earning power is diminished it will have become $7.88?

This growth of money to nearly eight times its original figure in thirty years is possible through investment in 7% Bonds such as we have for sale with semi-annual interest payments reinvested at the same rate.

The attached table shows what different sized investments of this kind will amount to in varying terms of years.

1910, and is effective on Amer- citizens in Shanghai.

Again, all four of the nations presented by Consulates have ed themselves with the Con- tion of 1921 by signature and two cases by ratification also. these four Denmark ratified arrangement of 1904. France Spain ratified the agreements 1904 and 1910, the United tes Government has its own ite Slave Law. Furthermore, na's representative signed the nvention of 1921. The Con- tion of 1921 does not come o force in respect of each party il formal ratification by the ernment concerned, or with of Accession.

The situation as regards the itude of seventeen nationalities resented in the International tlement is that fourteen of them pledged formally to one or re of the above white slave reements. The representatives China, Japan and Poland—the maining three—have signed the nvention of 1921, which in its eral tenor is inclusive of the er two Conventions. The U. S. its own law in addition to ad- ion to 1904 agreement. It uld, therefore, be possible for sixteen Consulates in the ernational Settlement and the inese to co-operate in some asure on this problem. It would ear also that such cases of the ite Slave Traffic as have been served in Shanghai could be ered in some way by this co- ration. Even Germany and ssia, neither of which countries at present a Consulate, ratified h agreements of 1904 and 1910, d their nationals would ap- ently be amenable to either ir own law or the Chinese law en China has ratified the Con- ntion of 1921. Judging from reples to the letters of the oral Welfare League to the nsulates some of them are not are of the relation of their vernments to White Slave ffic Agreements.

"With regard to further govern- ental ratifications of the Con- ntion of 1921, the Advisory mmittee on the Traffic of Wo- n and Children stated that the mmittee had been informed t Italy and Japan were taking ps to ratify the Convention and t while the French Government d not yet considered the ques- n of its adhesion, the measures ntemplated in that Convention, luding certain legislative meas- es, had already been taken in ance."

MIXED COURT HOME

One of the things suggested by s. J. H. Cheng, as a result of her rk in the Mixed Court, was a n to assist the women and girls ought before the Mixed Court on e charge of public solicitation. a result there was evolved the heme for a Mixed Court Home ven below. This scheme has en presented to the Committee of e Door of Hope and is heartily proved by them, being looked as an additional scheme to help ese unfortunate women which is eded under present conditions. has also been presented to the lice Department and has receiv- their hearty approval and omise that they will stand back it as far as possible. The estion as to whether these girls uld or could not be handed er to the Mixed Court Home fore judgment is rendered has, the time being, been waived asmuch as the legal questions volved are obscure and neces ate further study. The ap- oval of the Mixed Court Magis ates is given in the attached ter from Mr. A. D. Blackburn.

Name: The Institution shall known as "The Mixed Court me."

Location: The Mixed Court me shall be in the vicinity of e Mixed Court.

Headquarters: These shall con- t at first of a four-roomed inese house. It is hoped that is Home will develop into some ing larger as time goes on. Ex riment is necessary to learn actly what is needed.

Purpose: The Purpose of the ixed Court Home shall be to omote the Protection and Moral ysical and Economic Welfare of inese Women and Girls charg- before the Mixed Court with blic solicitation or related ences. This does not of course clude keepers or mistresses of uses charged with sending girls t to solicit. It is understood also at girls at present sent to the or of Hope are not included in e above.

Method: (1) To have those omen and girls who are ordered appear before the Mixed Court the charge of public solicita- tion or related offences, detained in the Mixed Court Home until brought before the Court. (2) To have the home worker appear before the Court when such women and girls are charged to request that, instead of being fined, they be turned over to the Mixed Court Home.

Staff: The Mixed Court Home shall be under a committee appointed by the Moral Welfare League. The majority of the members of the committee shall be Chinese as shall also the matron and-or home worker. Advice of experienced Westerners shall be utilised whenever available.

Aims: The matron and workers will endeavor to assist residents of the Mixed Court Home along the following lines:

Study more carefully their condition and needs.

At present there is little opportunity to do this.

Enlighten them as to the dangers, moral and physical, of an immoral life. Since most of them do not read, printed advice is little good.

Bring to their notice Municipal Regulations.

Bring to bear upon them moral suasion with a view to preventing a repetition of the offence.

Endeavor to secure a recognition on their part of the advantages of a moral life, and also seek to induce them to change their mode of living.

Help them regain a worthy social position:—

(1) By helping them understand the advantages of a stay in the Door of Hope.

(2) By arranging to house them temporarily if necessary.

(3) By assisting them to find suitable employment or a home with friends.

Arrange for the medical treatment of such as need it.

The estimated budget for the first year would amount to $2,450.

The plan for the home has been given the support of Mr. A. D. Blackburn, Senior British Assessor of the Mixed Court, in a letter to the Rev. Frank Rawlinson, hon. secretary of the League.

TRAVELLERS' AID

R. Ashoorth discussed the need of a traveller's aid society in Shanghai, as follows:

"What is a Travellers' Aid Society? It is an organisation that assists newcomers to the city by giving them direction, information, advice and protection, or by helping in any other way that the situation demands. Does Shanghai need a Travellers' Aid Society? This need has been investigated to some extent by workers of the Foreign Women's Home. A few boats have been met and some trains, and it is evident that here in Shanghai, a sort of crossroads of the world, an organised Travellers' Aid should exist, as in the large cities in America and England. For, we are all more or less aware of the fact that in Shanghai, there are many women who arrive as strangers, and too often fall into the hands of unscrupulous boarding-house keepers, some, of course, from choice, but I feel there are some too, of necessity, because of lack of funds and employment.

"It is obvious that the work at the station would be mainly for Chinese, yet there must be some foreigners who come into Shanghai at this point needing assistance, for there were at the 10 p.m. train, each night the workers mentioned above were on duty, two or three boarding-house keepers who seemed to find it worth their while to meet all the trains. Therefore if workers are appointed to do station work, they should speak English as well as Chinese.

"At the Customs Jetty, these same boarding-house keepers meet the Vladivostock boats, going down on the tender to the boat, which gives them a good opportunity of getting any who have made no hotel arrangement. We have met no Chinese boats, as it is quite impossible for one worker to meet all the incoming boats, they arrive so irregularly.

"It seems, therefore, highly desirable that all interested in such work should co-operate and work together to promote this important work in Shanghai."

In addition to the three principal schemes outlined above the League's program for 1923 as announced, includes a study of the economic condition of unemployed women, the calling of a conference of teachers and others with a view of finding out how to promote sex education in Shanghai, investigate, study and take action in questions concerning the relation of owners, agents and landlords to property used as brothel purposes, sale of liquor by brothels, social vice in hotels, and conduct a determined publicity campaign against organised vice in Shanghai. The budget for the coming year is $2,370. The treasurers report showed receipts of $6,939.38, and expenditures during the year of $5,836.69 leaving a balance of $702.69.

DRIVER IS GIVEN HEAVY FINE BY TRAFFIC COURT

Assessed $100 And License Suspension Is Recommended

A fine of $100 was imposed and suspension of his driver's license was recommended by Assessor Mead and Magistrate Loh of the Mixed Court yesterday in the case of a Chinese merchant Wong Tuh-ting convicted of reckless driving on the Bubbling Well Road on Dec. 2.

It was shown in the testimony that the defendant was passing the Race Course and forced his car between a tram and a ricsha, overturning the latter and throwing its occupant, Mr. S. E. Clark, to the pavement. After the accident the driver proceeded on his way without stopping, though called upon to do so.

In giving sentence the Assessor directed that $6 of the fine be paid to the ricsha coolie and remarked that in the opinion of the Court Wong's license should be suspended for six months.

The chauffeur of a motor lorry which passed to the wrong side of a stationary tram car on Broadway December 11 and crashed into a carriage belonging to Mrs. Taylor was fined $20, with the alternative of two weeks' imprisonment. He was also ordered to pay Tls. 29.50 to Mrs. Taylor for damage sustained by the carriage and $16 to the Tramway Company for damage to the tram.

Wilson To Re-enter American Politics?

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Dec. 14.—It is announced that ex-President Wilson will sever his partnership in the law firm of Wilson and Colby on December 31. The foregoing coupled with Ex-President Wilson's improved health are regarded as foreshadowing the ex-President's active re-entrance into politics.

Dr. Wang Accepts Taili Premiership For Ten Days Only

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Dec. 14.—Dr. C. T. Wang assumed the Tahi Premiership this morning. The first business meeting of his Cabinet took place this afternoon.

In a circular telegram to the provinces Dr. C. T. Wang yesterday explained that he agreed to take up the Premiership during the interval prior to Parliament voting on the nomination of General Chang Shou-tseng. The President agreed to the following condition, (1) that he will hold the Premiership for not more than ten days, (2) that Parliament will vote on General Chang Shou-tseng's nomination as soon as possible and (3) that during his term of office no high officials will be appointed.

It is reported that Mr. Tang Tsai-chang will be appointed Chief Secretary of the Cabinet.

Peking, Dec. 14.—Mr. Chang Shu-sen has introduced a motion in the House of Representatives urging that candidates for the Premiership should be expected to make a speech in Parliament explaining their policies before the election, thus giving the members opportunity to form intelligent opinions of their suitability. It is not known yet whether this Bill will be voted before the voting on the nomination of General Chang Shou-tseng which is set on tomorrow's agenda.

Peking, Dec. 14.—Dr. C. T. Wang yesterday issued a circular telegram to all local provinces, saying that he has decided to take up the Acting Premiership for a period of ten days (not for seven days as previously reported). He officially assumed the post this morning at 10.

(Reuter's Service)

The Hague, Dec. 13.—A meeting of the directors of the Royal Dutch Petroleum Company today decided to pay an interim dividend of 10 percent in January.

The dividend is smaller than previously, owing to the great uncertainty with regard to taxation in the Dutch Indies.

London, Dec. 13.—Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield, Ltd., announce a dividend on preferred ordinary shares at the rate of 10 percent per annum for the six months ending December 31, less income tax.

SEES COTTON SHORTAGE

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 14.—A sensational forecast with regard to the future was made by Sir Edward Mackay Edgar, interviewed on his return from America. He declared that American demand for oil, metals and cotton was increasing at such a rate that worldwide shortage was inevitable. He pointed out that the United States at present consumed 70 percent of her own cotton crop. Sir Edward Edgar expressed the opinion that the time was approaching when she would import cotton. With regard to oil she was already in the importing stage.

DINNER FOR BIG LEAGUERS IS TONIGHT

American Baseball Stars In From North Praise Peking Marines

TOUR CITY TODAY

Sight-seeing Trips This Morning; Ball Game Tomorrow Afternoon

The big leaguers are here.

Loud in praises for the entertainment given them in Peking by Captain Lott's great Marine gang, the party of 26 major league baseball players, with their wives, hit the North Station here last night where they were greeted by a big delegation of fans and taken to the Astor House, where they will stop while here. Impromptu receptions were held at the Astor when local baseball followers met the American stars.

The first thing Herb Hunter did after getting rooms assigned was to announce the lineup for tomorrow afternoon against the Shanghai team and here it is:

Strunk (White Sox)	cf
Griffith (Robins)	2b
Bib Falk (White Sox)	lf
Irish Meusel (Giants)	rf
Kelly (Giants)	1b
Stephenson (Indians)	3b
Doc Lavan (Cardinals)	ss
Luke Sewall (Indians)	c
Joe Bush (Yankees) or Waite Hoyt (Yankees)	p

Because of the rule which prohibits no more than three World's Series players in a game, Hofmann, the Yankees catcher, and Casey Stengel, the Giants left fielder, will not play. If there is any shift, Herb Pennock of the Boston Red Sox will hurl and this will allow Stengel in the game.

The game will start promptly at 2:15 o'clock.

This morning, the big leaguers and their wives will go on an automobile sightseeing trip of the city and more motor cars are needed. The party will leave the Astor House at 10:30 o'clock and will get a glimpse of the Chinese and foreign residential and business sections. The visitors will have tiffin at the hotel.

The afternoon will be given over to sightseeing and shopping.

Tonight the American Club and Shanghai Amateur Baseball Club will be hosts at a dinner to be held at the American Club Nearly 200 reservations had been made last night and but few more are available and must be made in advance, early today with Secretary W. A. Adams of the Club. Reservations may be made by phone.

While the male members of the baseball party are at the American Club dinner, the ladies will be entertained with a box party at the performance of "Foolish Wives" at the Olympic Theater.

Mr. Joseph Eichwald will be the toastmaster at the dinner and there will be short talks by President J. Harold Dollar of the American Chamber of Commerce and American Club, President Fred A McIntyre of the Baseball Club, and Dr. N. L. Downs while Herb Hunter, manager of the big leaguers; Frank O'Neill of the New York Sun and Dr. John J. Lavan of the Cleveland Indians will have a few words to say. Incidentally Dr. Lavan played against Freddie Bills, when the latter was captain of Cornell and Freddie punched a homer with George Sisler pitching and beat Michigan 1-0.

There will be a short entertainment program at the dinner with Messrs. E. P. Graham-Barrow, Mark Hanna; George Baldwin, Herbert Light, and Bernard Nedell of the Frawley Company; Aaron Glemby, Cameron, Wynn, Vincent and Heen.

Saturday morning will be free for the visitors while Saturday afternoon the entire American populace will adjourn to the ball park where George Moriarty, the American League umpire, will announce the batters.

And there should be some long hitting. Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld have offered a silver cup to the visitor who hits the most home runs.

Stands have been erected and the field will be as near mid-season shape as possible. Through the courtesy of the Shanghai Football Club the baseball grounds will be available and the courtesy of the British sportmen calls for the highest praise.

In order to defray the expenses of the game and the entertainment for the visitors, subscription lists have been opened at the American Club and Japanese Club.

THE baseball business is looking up—"sitting pretty" as they say back in the States. Time was, and that not so long ago, when teams or players that went foraging back into the sticks for exhibition purposes did so under the sobriquet of "barnstormers," an appellation that was generally uncomplimentary if not actually epithetic in its inferences. Now, if you please, the athletes released from their summer's toil spend a week or so looking around for a bank big enough to hold the contents of their pay envelopes and after that they go galloping around the world as a "mission," the avowed purpose of which is to impart to foreign peoples a higher conception of the great American game.

Old King Baseball has risen to a high estate indeed, what with magnificent million dollar steel and concrete palaces in which to hold his court; with a prime minister requisitioned like the president's own, from his Blackstone and his cloisters; with bat swinging ambassadors whose combined annual stipends would discharge the Allied debt, and now with his Tuxedoed and spike tailed "Mission" going out, like envoys of the Greater Faith, to convert the world.

St. Xavier's Strengthens For Tomorrow's Game; Eight Matches Carded

Following it's disastrous defeat by the Marine Engineers and losing-out after a hard-fought tussle with the Police, every effort is being made to strengthen St. Xavier's First League eleven.

J. Johnson, who made his first appearance here as center-half for the Saints three years ago, is back in his old position on the team. Johnson's play aroused much favorable comment in the press and his presence will certainly stiffen the St. Xavier's defence.

J. Gutierrez, the speedy left wing, makes his first appearance in the team this season tomorrow after an absence due to illness.

Boisserie, playing left half, and Costa inside-left, are young bloods recruited last week and will reappear this week after showing an excellent brand of football.

It is regrettable that Schneider, who has been playing left-half for this and the past two seasons, has been compelled to retire owing to heart-trouble.

The team for the Skottowe Cup competition will be re-inforced by C. J. Encarnacao at back, and two or three "dark horses" in the half and forward lines. The Saints promise the Football Club "B" eleven a hard tussle for a place in the Second Round.

Eight games are scheduled in the Shanghai Football Association League tomorrow. Three games are scheduled in the First league, and five games will be played in the Second league. The scheduled is as follows:

FIRST LEAGUE

S.R.C. vs. Police, S.R.C. ground.

St. F. Xavier's vs. Public School, Hongkew.

S.F.C. vs. Engineers, Police ground (in lieu of S.F.C. ground, which will be in use by the American baseball players).

SECOND LEAGUE

Customs vs. Police 2nd, Hongkew.

Thomas Hanbury School vs. Rangers, Hongkew.

Club Lusitano vs. S.F.C. 2nd, Polo ground.

H. M. Navy vs. St. F. Xavier's 2nd, W. Mon East.

Public School 2nd vs. S. R. C 2nd, W. Monument (in lieu of Police ground, on which a First League match will be played).

The following players have been selected to represent St. Xavier's in the First League match to be played against the Shanghai Public School at the Hongkew Recreation Ground tomorrow: Baker; H. Favacho, W. Favacho; T. Murray, J. Johnson and O. Boisserie; F. Gutierrez, J. Silva, J. Tordy, A. Costa and J. Gutierrez.

Reserves: T. Aldeguer and J. Noodt.

Beat Public School; Bearcats Take Rough Game From Blues

Foreign Basketball League Standing

Bearcats	3	1	.750
Blues	3	1	.750
Public School	1	3	.250

The American School star shone on high last night, when Coach Edmunds' speedy five took the lead in the foreign basketball league by defeating the Public School team 21 to 12, and Kenny Irle's Bearcats took the measure of the Rowing Club Blues in a 29 to 8 game.

Previous to last night's games, the Blues were tied with the American School for the lead, but their defeat last night puts the schoolboys one game ahead.

The first game, between the Bearcats and the Blues, resembled a football rather than a net game, and instead of seeing the clean, fast basketball that usually is characteristic of the local league, the big crowd was greatly disappointed by rough play and many personal fouls. Another such game is likely to ruin the sport for Shanghai. Several of the players guarded much too closely, and the referee finally quit the game despairing of his attempt to stop the rough stuff. Coach Edmunds declared that he would not want his light team of schoolboys to go up against any such playing that was seen on the floor last night. The crowd was plainly disgusted and it was a

FRANK CHANCE WILL MANAGE BOSTON RED SOX

Former Cubs Pilot Goes To Hub; Frazee To Strengthen Team

China Press Special

New York, December 14.—Frank Chance, former manager of the Chicago Cubs, has signed a contract to manage the Boston Americans next season, it was officially announced today by owner Harry Frazee. Chance will take up his duties immediately and Frazee plans to strengthen the Red Sox by the purchase of several players.

insofar as it applies to baseball's starting point.' It used to be rounders, but it long ago passed out of that stage, like the darky who exclaimed of his bride when he saw her coming in her yaller shoes and her green and purple wedding gown to meet him, "'at woman sut'inly has done got huhself fixed up!"

In baseball the "fixing up" process was applied first to the game itself, which from the rounders starting point has been transformed by constant legislation into one of the most intricate and scientific sports in the world, a statement to which many Britishers in Shanghai will bear willing testimony.

In later years the "fixing up" process has been directed more toward the players with the result that the standard has risen year ly year until now the young men in America who play baseball as a temporary profession are looked upon as members of a calling as clean and honorable as any in the land.

Until a comparatively few years ago there were dozens of rowdies in professional baseball—players who went on the field with unhusked walnuts in their mouths, judged by the bulge in their jaws and the tint of the juice that squirted therefrom, and who worried their managers to death for fear that enough of them to make up a team for the next day would not have recovered consciousness from over indulgence in corn juice the night before. As ball players some of those birds were great arguments for prohibition.

Gradually, however, young men from the colleges, attracted by the high salaries paid to professional baseball players, began to break into the game, and as these were clean limbed, clean living, ambitious young fellows it wasn't long until they were setting a pace on the field that the old timers couldn't hope to follow without changing their tactics while off. They made competition keener—so much keener, in fact, that the old, loose living players gradually were weeded out, leaving baseball a clean, respectable and respected profession that all Americans delight to honor.

O" these baseball "missionaries" who are now touring the East we hear it said of them that they were "specially picked" for the trip, not only because of their standing as players, but because of their gentlemanly qualities—because in each one of them there was confidence that he not only would delight foreigners with his athletic craftsmanship, but charm them as true American gentlemen.

And from reports reaching us from Japan, where the players have been giving exhibitions and in their spare time coaching the Japanese collegians, all these things are true.

And for that reason we say to the boys, one and all, and to the good wives of those who are thus accompanied: Welcome, thrice welcome to our city!

KASHIO THIRD DAVIS CUP STAR TO BE MARRIED

Tennis Champion Who Learned Game Here, Is Wedded Tomorrow

Mr. Seiichiro Kashio, formerly of Shanghai and the third member of the tennis team which carried Japan into the challenge round of the Davis Cup tournament in 1921, is to be married to Miss Chiyoko Nagata, second daughter of Rear-Admiral Taijiro Nagata, president of the Kobe Higher Mercantile Marine School, Kobe, at Temman Shrine, Osaka, December 26.

Although unable to enter the Davis Cup play again this year, the three men who have won fame for Japan on courts of the world have not been idle by any means.

Mr. Zenzo Shimidzu was married in Tokio last January.

Mr. Ichayae Kumagae is to be married tomorrow and Mr. Kashio will complete the entry of the trio into matrimony before the end of the year. Mr. Kumagae and Mr. Kashio will go to the United States shortly with their brides on wedding trips. They expect to join Mr. Shimidzu in preparation for the Davis Cup tournament next summer. Mr. Kumagae is employed by Mitsubishi, and Mr. Shimidzu and Mr. Kashio are both with Mitsui. All are stationed in New York City.

Mr. Kashio's bride-to-be, Miss Nagata, is a talented young lady. She is 20 years old, and a graduate of the Kamakura Girls' High School.

Big Leaguers Loud In Praise Of Japan

By unanimous vote of the American baseball players who arrived here from Peking last night on their Far Eastern tour, the Japanese collegians are the finest sportsmen in the world.

The common topic of conversation was the remarkable entertainment which the Japanese gave the Americans, and their sportsmanship on the baseball field.

relief when the final whistle blew.

Kenny Irle was the star of the game, scoring six baskets, and hanging on the tall Rowing Club center Neprud, who failed to hit the basket once during the game. Irle was the whole show for his team, and without him the Bearcats would have been helpless against the Blues. After the Rowing Club team had jumped to a five point lead at the start, the Bearcats came up rapidly from behind, and were leading 13 to 8 at half-time. Play was so rough during the second half that neither team had much opportunity for open play, and the Blues were shut out, Irle and Gray bringing up the Bearcats' total to 29.

Doc Gray played a fast game for the winners, and he and Roxburgh did their part towards achieving a victory over the Blues. Goldman played a good game for the losers, as he was not so closely guarded as the Blue center.

Incidentally it was the Bearcats' third straight victory, and they have come back with a rush after losing their opening game of the season to the American School. From the form they have showed in their last games, they look like champions. A light team of schoolboys, however fast, would have no chance against the rough play that featured the game last evening.

Following is the individual scoring:

Bearcats		Blues
Roxburgh	lf	Day
Gray	rf	Goldman
Irle	c	Neprud
Lewis	lg	E. Nash
Hirsh	rg	H. Nash
	lf	Krysman

Goals from floor: Irle 6, Gray 4, Roxburgh 2, Goldman 2, Day. Goals from fouls: Gray 5, Neprud 2. Referee: Zee. Timekeeper: Kline. Scorer: Grafton.

S. A. S. TEAM WINS

Coach Edmunds' American School pennant hopes staged a sensational victory over the Public School, finally coming out on the long end of a 21 to 12 score.

The outcome was in doubt up to the last minute, although the S. A. S. team was in the lead by the few points throughout the game. The winners took the lead at the start, enjoying a 12 to 4 lead at half-time. Play during the last half was much closer, the Public School creeping several times within striking distance of the game, and were only outdistanced at the last when Roy and Dud Squires caged the ball by fluke shots.

Shipley, the diminutive American School forward, was the leading scorer for the winners, netting the ball five times, and bringing up his season's total to 21, only one behind Neprud, and six behind Roxburgh of the Bearcats, who tops off with 27.

Maxey Smith played an unusually hard game at guard, giving Levis little opportunity to score till late in the contest, when the Public School man broke away for four goals. The Squires brothers played in form, and mixed the fight at all times.

For the losers Levis and Remedios played well, both scoring spectacular shots from difficult positions. The S. P. S. made a great stand against the leaders, and deserved to make a better showing, but had no luck when it came to making points, and there was where the opposing five hac the edge. The floor game was very even.

A large crowd filled the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, and play was almost halted several times by the crowding on the sidelines. Basketball seems to be gaining rapidly in popularity, and it is interesting to note that a majority of the spectators were Chinese. Large bodies of school children from both schools were present, and made the old gym walls resound with their yelling.

The individual scoring follows:

American School		Public School
"Dud" Squires	lf	Levis
Shipley	rf	Johansson
Roy Squires	c	Remedios
Hager	lg	Mahon
Smith	rg	Brockett
	rg	Siemssen
	lf	Lewis

Goals from floor: Shipley 5, Levis 4, Roy Squires 3, Remedios 2, "Dud" Squires 2. Goals from fouls: Roy Squires 1. Referee: Gray. Timekeeper: Kline. Scorer: Grafton.

St. John's And Nanyang XIs Play Again Tomorrow Record Crowd Is Expected

One of the important football games of the season will be played on the St. John's ground at Jessfield Road tomorrow afternoon between the two great rivals in Shanghai, Nanyang and St. John's. A record crowd is expected.

The eleven that represented the Nanyang defeated their opponents from Shanghai's oldest college two weeks ago on the Siccawei ground before a crowd of several thousand spectators by a lone goal which was the result of a penalty kick. But it does not mean that the St. John's team is inferior to Nanyang. The game would have resulted in a scoreless tie had not the incident occurred which resulted the penalty kick.

St. John's must win tomorrow to hold up their position in the intercollegiate series, but the Nanyang players are equally determined to cop the game, as their victory this time means so much to the winning of the championship title this year.

The Southeastern University of Nanking will meet the Fuhtan University team tomorrow afternoon on the Siccawei ground. The Shanghai team should win from the visitors in easy style.

Shanghai Baptist College is booked to play the Aurora University in a friendly game tomorrow afternoon on the former's ground at Yangtszepoo.

Exchange Market

In their weekly report on the exchange market, Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows:

Exchange.—The London price of silver at 31 7/16d. for spot and 31 3/8d for forward is 1d. lower than this day last week for both deliveries and it is reported that there is still no support to the silver market. Our official rate for T/T on London has also declined 1d. to 3-1d. Our local Gold-dealers have been buyers of Gold T/T for forward deliveries the only steadiness in our exchange market appears to come from a demand for early money and at the close 3/1 1/2d. and G. $71 3/4 is offered for December, for after China New Year the quotation is a weakish 3/0 3/4d. The cross rate between Sterling and Gold Dollars $4/4.62 7/8 is within 5% of parity.

Asia Banking Corporation

December 14, 1922

Spot and forward bar silver were each down ½d. in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 64 cents and the London New York cross rate improved to 463¾.

The only change in our official quotations here this morning was a rise in the Franc rate to 1010.

Our market here today was weak, particularly for forward delivery. Some business this morning in Sterling was done at 3s. 1d. for December-January delivery and 3s. 0⅛d. February-March.

Gold Dollars were done at 71⅝ for December, 71⅝ January and 71¼ for March. There were, however, strong buyers at these rates and the market subsequently eased off until in the afternoon when there were no sellers of Sterling at better than 3s. 0⅛d. for December-January delivery, 3s. 0d. February and 2s. 11⅞d. March.

The best sellers of Gold Dollars were offering 71⅛ December, 71¼ January and 71 for February-March delivery. There were Yen sellers at 68⅛ for this month's delivery and buyers at 68⅜. There were sellers for February-March at 68¾. The market closed weak.

In the afternoon banks were quoting 3s. 1⅛d. for Sterling bills, 73 for Gold Dollar bills and 1035 for Franc bills.

Bear operators sold silver in London yesterday and China bought at the close. The market is reported as easy.

No advices have as yet been received from New York regarding their market.

Coal Market

In their fortnightly report on the coal market, Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows:

Japan Coal:—As the negotiations for most of next year's contracts are now practically completed the market has gone back to its usual routine and there is nothing much doing except supplying native dealers with their usual "hand-to-mouth" requirements.

Fushun Coal.—Nothing fresh to report.

Fuchung Anthracite: — No change to report here either since last writing but the market continues firm and stocks are light.

Kaiping Coal:—Although full work has been resumed at the mines the position on the railway is anything but satisfactory. The demand for coal via Chinwangtao is much in excess of the prevailing truck capacity and unless relief is accorded in this direction, overseas coal must remain in short supply. There is a firm demand here for all coal as it arrives, and prices are quite firm.

The Mischief Makers Again At Work

TODAY'S Reuter dispatches from London and Washington reporting on naval matters bring news of the sort we used to get for years preceding the Great War. alarmist rumors and innuendos, originating from nobody knows where, but calculated to breed suspicion of one another's motives among great peoples.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Booker directed attention to the report that the United States was to build the most powerful navy in the world "by building smaller ships than specified in the Washington Treaty."

The First Lord of the Admiralty confirmed the statement that no restrictions had been placed on the contracting parties with regard to the number of smaller warships they might build, but added that the Admiralty might be relied on to scrutinise carefully the building programs of other powers.

In Washington, reporting the annual naval bill to the House, the Appropriations Committee urged the President to negotiate with Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan for an agreement limiting future construction of all surface and submersible warcraft of a tonnage not exceeding 10,000 and of all classes of military and naval aircraft.

The Committee further declared information has reached it that large building programs have been planned by other powers, to the maximum permitted under the Disarmament Agreement and that new and large submersibles have begun to appear—that, in other words, the old competition is being resumed and that another naval race is on.

It is obvious from these reports that a new mischief is being sown. Who are the hidden circulators of these reports and what is their object? Britain has been more than fair with regard to her supreme problem of naval supremacy, and so, we believe, has been Japan. The United States Government called the Washington Conference and amazed the world by the extent of her sacrificial naval proposals.

Italy and France thus far have failed to ratify the agreements entered into by their representatives at the Washington Conference, but the menace of their navies, even with France planning a large submarine program is negligible. What, then, is the object sought to be attained by these suspicion mongers? It can only be that of fomenting distrust between Great Britain and America. And that some such plot is going forward cannot be doubted, for the report circulated in America about Britain's naval scheme is much the same as the one circulated in Britain about America.

Fortunately there is nothing in sight for these two great naval powers to go to war about. They are in the habit of talking frankly to each other and in matters where their honor is concerned they trust each other. So these trouble makers will fail in their present effort. But who are they and why can't they be found and hanged to the nearest lampposts?

M. Poincare says that no doubt there will be a nasty period in European affairs. The past—but then the past, of course, is past!

MAN OF DREAMS

O man of dreams, why do you stay
Far hidden from my sight away?
I search and search each face I see
Do you still wait and look for me?
And will I know you on that day
When your fond heart to me will say,
In love's sweet words with meaning fraught:
"Here is the one for whom I've sought."
Then all my soul with joy will greet.
And lay its treasures at your feet.
For if that day be dark or fair,
The springtime flowers will blossom there:
For where your smile makes light the way.
Beauty and truth can only stay
O man of dreams, I'm waiting still,
And all the things that my life fill,
Are but the tiny drops of dew,
In oceans of my love for you.

RUTH THARP.

CENTRAL FIRE STATION

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir: With reference to the terrible fire in Astoria reported a few days ago, it gives one ample reason to think seriously what a difference a few seconds delay in the arrival of the fire machines might make in Shanghai.

From the minutes recently published by the Council regarding the Central Fire Station, it would appear that the Council has a very vital question to decide without delay, and that its desire to avoid any increased expenditure should not outweigh the urgent need there is for the Central Fire Department to be housed in a sufficiently large and up-to-date building situated in a suitable position.

It seems to us that neither the Mill District or the Godown District is in such need of the prompt attention of the Brigade as the Central District, owing to the fact that nearly all mills and godowns have automatic fire extinguishers installed which for many reasons are not practicable for office buildings.

It is well known that there is no such thing as a fire-proof building and that the best that can be done is to make them as fire resisting as possible.

Take for instance a fire starting at any point along Szechuen Road—and the Brigade owing to some reason which they know of and which has been put forward in their request for new quarters, took a minute longer to arrive than would have been the case if they had a specially designed building—the loss to the community might be incalculable. Most of the blocks in the Central District afford special facilities for the spread of fire.

The Brigade has often a dual duty, not only in extinguishing fires, but also in saving life. A little delay may not only affect buildings but seriously affect the safety of the occupants. Enclosing my card, I am,

CAUTIOUS.

Sea Lure

Close creep the hills and out beyond
My feet have never fared
Where tides run high and proud ships ride.
Great seas I have not dared.

But still I am a sailor born,
A voyager, I know:
Day long, night long no wind that stirs
But urges me to go.

The gossip birds that voyage here
From worlds beyond my door,
They whisper how the white surf breaks
Upon a long, lean shore,

They tell of masts that cut the clouds
And tower to the sky,
And men who battle with the fog—
Of these, of these am I!

I am a sailor born—(and yet,
The hills, how close they creep!
And masts and sails I have not seen
Save those I count in sleep!)

But if I never seek the sea
I wist not it deceives,
And still I can delight my soul
With voyaging of leaves.

And still I can with clouds set sail.
And still with birds take wing,
And what I lack of salt and spray
Perhaps the wind will bring.

But oh, I dare not look on ships
Lest I should rue the choice!
And oh, I dare not think of men
With sea speech in the voice!

I am a sailor born—and if
Too much some sea wind said,
The hills might fall apart one day
And wake to find me fled!

—HELEN FRAZEE-BOWER.

Do It Right

BY WALT MASON

If you have a task to do, do it right; if you're making Irish stew, do it right; if you're darning Father's sock, if you're putting down a walk, if you're winding up a clock, do it right. Sloppy work will hurt your fame; do it right; careless workmanship's a shame; do it right; when you paint the kitchen floor, when you fix the stable door—whatsoever be your chore, do it right. If you'd play a game of ball, do it right; if you'd lecture in a hall, do it right; if you'd build yourself a home, if you'd write a noble pome, if you'd punch a neighbor's dome, do it right. Though you have a humble task, do it right; if in Easy street you'd bask, do it right; for the fellows who advance, taking hold of every chance, profiting by circumstance, do it right. If your duty's high and great, do it right; if you labor for the State, do it right; high or low, it's just the same; man should always play the game; he must, if he'd sidestep shame, do it right.

Christmas Stories By Shanghai Children

A Christmas Adventure

BY RUKIYA GULAMALI
(Age 12)

It was a fortnight before Christmas, and everybody were doing their shopping. Christmas in Shanghai was not so joyful as in Europe, but still the foreigners celebrated it.

A bright home in Bubbling Well Road was the Smiths. The few members of the large household were Joyce, a beautiful girl of eighteen, Bobbie, a boy of fourteen, their parents, who were very old, and a few servants. They were very rich, and had to keep watchmen to guard their house. Every day they had guests who stayed till late.

On Christmas Eve the Smiths gave a masquerade ball, and hundreds of guests were invited.

Mr. Brocktons, who was very much in love with Joyce was not invited and he was very angry. Joyce did not love him as she did not like his looks, which were not trustful.

While Joyce was waltzing with her lover Jack Hull, Brocktons was plotting with some ruffians.

"You men dress as golliwogs," he said "and I like a Pierrot, and we'll pass for Mrs. Smith's friends. Then I will hold Mr. Hull in conversation and when I am doing that, you (pointing to one of his men) ask the young lady for a dance, and lead her outside. You others will be hiding behind the trees, and when they are out, spring upon her and bring her to the hut at Woosung Road and I will follow. I shall make her sign a cheque, and if she refuses, well!—you know what will happen. After that we will try to get rid of Hull."

The men followed Brockton's advice and the girl was trapped, but she gave a scream. Mrs. Smith heard it and called her friends to her, they found Joyce and the five golliwogs missing. They went outside and found a Chinese policeman.

"Did you see anyone going from here?" asked the trembling Mrs. Smith.

"Yes," ma'am," answered the policeman, "I saw about 6 people, one of them a female, and the others were males, going with all speed into a motorcar."

They thanked the policeman and continued their search.

In the meantime Brocktons had disappeared, and they suspected him. The party went in a motor car to all the streets and inspected them, but there was no trace of Joyce. Only Woosung Road was left, and if she was not there, they would be hopeless. When they arrived there, they entered a Chinese abode, and asked him if he saw any signs of a young girl, and they gave her description as a tall and pretty girl with dark hair and grey eyes.

The reply was "Missee, I have see one girl as you have say, in one opium man house. One piece handkerchief b'long puttee round moufu and also five piece mat, face everywhere puttee black. Opium-house man name Ah Sing very bad, live 145."

They thanked him with $5 and went on their way. On the road they met some Sikhs and a few Chinese constables and told them to follow.

They arrived at Ah Sing's and held up the men. They were at that time about to torture Joyce and were mocking her for refusing to wed Brocktons and getting tortured instead.

The men together with Brocktons were handed over to the police, one of them was Ah Sing, the opium smoker.

"This Ah Sing is the man we have been seeking for in vain, he shall never escape us now," said the police, "as he will be shot. While you, Brocktons, will have life imprisonment."

The party returned home with Joyce, and next day, which was Christmas, they woke with their hearts at rest as they never trusted Brocktons and were glad to get rid of him. On the same day Mr. Hull was united with Joyce, and health was proposed by their many friends.

A Brave Deed

BY ALBERT BAKEMAN
(Age 14)

Lan Feng was one of the boys in the temple of Ching Gen whose duty was to tend to the idols and keep the temple clean and to do any other odd jobs.

One morning when Lan Feng was in the midst of sweeping the floor some missionaries came to visit the temple. This the priest disliked very much, as he despised the religion of the foreigners. As the missionaries were going out of sight Lan Feng saw the priest cast evil glances at them. He wondered why the priest did this, for he did not know that all over China men hated these foreigners. As for himself he liked them very well.

A few days later he heard a group of men talking in low tones in one of the rooms of the temple. He slowly crept up behind a pile of stones so as to get nearer the speaker. But try as he might there was one word which he could not hear for they almost whispered the word. He wondered what the word was, as they said they were going to attack some persons and burn their houses, but it was the name of the people that he couldn't hear. Lan Feng then went around to a ladder which went up to the roof of the temple. This he climbed with great care trying not to make any noise. Once on top of the roof he crawled along till he came to what he thought was about over the room in which the men were talking. He pulled aside a tile till there was a crack through which he could hear what they were saying. Lan Feng heard how the missionaries had detracted from the religion of the idols and how they were doing unheard of evil things. Then he heard another man say that they ought to get rid of these evil-doers by burning their houses and killing them. To this they all agreed and arranged to do it that night, as it was very dark and a strong wind which would help them very much was blowing.

As soon as Lan Feng heard this he climbed down from the roof to hurry to the missionaries and tell them of their danger. But as he was getting down his feet slipped and he fell to the ground with such a noise that the priest heard it and came out to investigate the cause and saw Lan Feng on the ground—but he dashed into a near-by bamboo grove. The priest not seeing him and supposing him to be in the temple did not chase him. Lan Feng was afraid that he would be seen so he waited till night, then slipped through the streets to the compound of the missionaries. He pounded on the gate which was opened by an old Chinese who asked him what he wanted. He answered that he wanted to see the missionaries on important business, which the gatekeeper would not let him do. This made him frantic as he knew that in but a short time great harm would come to the missionaries, so he pointed down the street and told the gatekeeper to look.

While the old man was peering down the dark street the clever little boy slipped through the gate and into the missionaries' house. Here he told all he knew. The man said that he knew this would happen, and they might as well flee now as any time. He called all the people together and told them what was going to happen if they did not go. He added that he wished it had not happened on Christmas Eve, but it could'nt be helped. They decided to leave in the motor-boat right away, and all started down to the boat after a few minutes spent in packing up the most necessary goods and Lan Feng followed after them. One of the missionaries noticed him and asked if the priest knew that he had warned them of their perils. He said yes the priest knew it, and would probably turn him out of the house and kill him for it, but still he was glad he had saved the missionaries' lives. When they heard this they asked him if he would like to come with them on the motor-boat. He gladly accepted the invitation and he soon became a good and kind Christian, under the missionaries' teaching with whom he remained the rest of his life, helping them greatly after the Boxer troubles were over, by interpreting and telling other Chinese the story of Christ and Christmas. But to this day every one, including Lan Feng, remember the Christmas Eve they spent in a motor boat fleeing from the Boxers.

How Do You Face Your Big Problems

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX

When you've a hard fight to make, how do you prepare yourself for it?

Do you make a stand when tragedy threatens? Do you take a position when you find yourself in difficulty and determine to fight your way out?

Of course you don't have to fight. You can give up right at the start. You are beaten—if you say so. The men in the city bread line, the dejected-looking souls straggling about the parks, the tawdry, drink-sodden, down-at-the-heels men and women we see and pity every day are those who ran up the white flag of surrender when trouble attacked. And even when we are pitying them and aching for them in their misery—it is well to remember that they once had their choice—that it was theirs to fight or give in.

Let me tell you the story of John T. At sixty he found himself stripped of the fortune which had once made him a big man in his city. A slump in stocks and a man who had been a paper-millionaire and who had lived on the scale of his pseudo fortune found himself actually beggared. Most of his close friends were hard hit. No one had time or inclination to do much for him. Those who had once catered to him shrugged their shoulders and said he was a wild-cat investor and not the sort of man it was safe to trust. Everyone grew suddenly conservative and cold.

Stripped of money, position, faith in humanity, friendship and almost of hope itself, John T. sat down and faced facts.

He was sixty. He had three children, the oldest of whom was fifteen. He had a wife who had been accustomed to riches, and he had debts.

John T. decided that he owed his debtors payment at some future date. He owed his wife a home. And to his children he owed a heritage of an unsmirched name, a good example and a start in the world.

The man went around begging for a job. He fought and demanded. He wormed his way into offices which had once swung wide their doors for him. Shabby, hungry, lacerated in his pride, the man determined that his boys should get an education and a start in the world.

Sheer grit landed him a job. It paid him twenty-five dollars a week. The man who had once been called a captain of industry got a chance to manage a candy stand in an office building where his former associates streamed by in pride of position. He peddled peanuts. He slaved at the most pride-humbling jobs. But he saw his family through.

Anyone can put his back to the wall and fight, if only he has enough faith and courage and energy and honesty. But do you do it?

Look yourself squarely in the face and ask yourself how you meet your tragedies. For meet them you must. You can let them ruin you—if you chose, or make you—if you will. You cannot escape tragedy. There is no choice about that. But you have your freedom of choice in deciding how to meet it.

The Uses Of Pocket Lens

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

Eminent Astronomer and Authority On Subjects Of Scientific Interest

A Useful little accomplishment which I have observed that surprisingly few persons have acquired is the skillful use of a pocket lens, or magnifying glass. Having the habit of carrying two or three of these lenses in my pockets, and lending them occasionally to persons to whom I am showing photographs, or curious natural objects requiring magnification, I find that hardly more than one or two percent of such persons know how to use the lenses effectively and comfortably.

Almost every unpractised observer holds the object at half-arm's length with the lens near it and so, of course, almost equally far from the eye. This with an ordinary pocket lens, magnifying three diameters or more, is fundamentally wrong. The field of view is restricted, and the object is poorly seen. Frequently, too, the lens is very awkwardly held with its plane more or less inclined to the object, the inevitable result being that the latter is distorted, none of it being truly in focus.

The proper way to handle a pocket-lens, whether the magnifying power is three, or a dozen, is to hold it with one hand near the eye, with its plane perpendicular to the object, and then with the other hand carefully bring the object up toward the glass, keeping it in the center of the field of view until it enters the focus of the lens, when its details will come out sharply. It is well, when possible, to steady both arms by resting them on a table or other firm support.

The simplest pocket-lens will reward its user richly by opening up to his view a world of wonders that lies, unsuspected by most people, not in the great depths which can only be reached by powerful microscopes, but just beneath the surface of common things. I have often wanted to write a book on the fascinating sights that I have personally seen with a pocket magnifier as I once wrote a similar one on what an opera-glass shows among the stars.

A little advice on how to choose a pocket-lens may not come amiss. I began buying them with my first pocket-money. It is not necessary to purchase a costly lens. Many special forms have been devised, for the use of experts, but a dollar ought to procure as good an article as the average person needs, if only a single lens is desired, which is sufficient in most cases. Choose a lens about an inch in diameter and of about two to two-and-a-half inches focus. Such a lens is usually mounted in a flat gutta-percha case not more than three-eighths of an inch thick.

To find the focal distance of a lens, focus the sun, or the image of some distant object seen through an open window, upon a sheet of paper and measure the distance between the center of the lens and the sharply defined image. To find the magnifying power in diameters, rule a set of parallel lines, say an eighth, or a sixteenth, of an inch apart, and after focusing the lens upon a part of them, open both eyes, draw the head away from the lens until with one eye you see the magnified and with the other the unmagnified lines.

It is, of course, an advantage in many cases to have two or three lenses, each of a different magnifying power. This is often arranged for by mounting several lenses in the same case, so that on opening them out, either one alone or two or three superposed may be used. Thus by various combinations a considerable variety of powers may be obtained—as many as six with three lenses. High-power combinations, however, are somewhat troublesome to manage. In the "Coddington lens" and similar forms the glass is often thicker through in the direction of the optical axis than the opposite way.

A person fond of such manipulations may construct excellent magnifying glasses, of relatively high powers, by mounting different lenses in small tubes. I once purchased in Paris a "vest-pocket opera-glass," which gave me great satisfaction when used as intended, but I put the two achromatic object glasses together and thus made one of the best pocket magnifiers I have ever used.

Japanese Sailors Confess To Piracy

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Dec. 13.—A sensational story of piracy on the high seas, alleged to have been committed by the Japanese steamer, Taiki Maru, (750 tons), has developed from an alleged voluntary confession by two members of the crew of the vessel, which returned to Tokio Bay a few days ago.

It appears that the Taiki Maru sailed for Alexandrovsk in September. As she was approaching the port early in October, she boarded two small Russian steamers, manned principally by Koreans. The entire crews were murdered, including the captain of one of the vessels, who pleaded in vain that his wife and an only child were waiting him on shore.

After looting the ships the pirates returned to the Taiki Maru and sailed for Tokio Bay. The captain escaped to Dairen.

The police are actively investigating the affair.

CONSERVATIVE WINS

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 14.—In the byelection at Portsmouth South yesterday Colonel Leslie Wilson, (Conservative) who was appointed Secretary of the Treasury by Mr. Bonar Law but was defeated in the elections, was elected with 14,301 votes. His opponent, Mr. Thomas (Independent) obtained 8,434 votes. The byelection was occasioned by the resignation of Major Cayzer.

Colonial Minister To Keep 'Hands Off'

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 13.—The Duke of Devonshire, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, was entertained at luncheon by the Nigerian Dinner Club today.

The Colonial Secretary said that his one desire was to pay attention to the legitimate affairs of the Colonial Office, not to the extraneous matters which the somewhat voracious appetite of his predecessor had brought into the Colonial Office. He desired that the Colonies should regard him not merely as the head of the Colonial Office but as a friend.

"If you had any anxiety in the past," he declared, "you can now rest assured that I will not interfere with the man on the spot where he is doing admirable work."

JAPANESE DENIAL

(Reuter's Service)

Sydney, Dec. 13.—The Japanese Consul-General emphatically denies the report published yesterday, that a Japanese syndicate has in the past year purchased 85 acres of land on the New South Wales coast-line.

RAIL APPOINTMENTS

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Dec. 11.—On the recommendation of the board of directors of the Tsingtao-Tsinan Railway, the Ministry of Communication has appointed Mr. Chow Tehsan, chief of the Railway Department of the Ministry, as Chief of the Administrative Bureau of the railway in question, and Mr. Chu Ting-chi as vice-chief of the same bureau.
